

WASHINGTON
ADVENTIST UNIVERSITY

RAY HARTWELL

Ray Hartwell holds a Bachelors of Theology Degree from Southern Adventist University earned in 1978, and a Masters of Divinity Degree from Andrews University in 1981.

From 1981 to 1990, Ray served as pastor of Seventh-day Adventist churches in Kentucky, Tennessee, and Missouri. In 1990, he became senior pastor of the Columbia First Seventh-day Adventist Church in Lexington, South Carolina. He served there on the Carolina Conference Executive Committee and Association Board, and Southern Union Conference Executive Committee, and as a member of the Adventist Health Systems-Sunbelt Constituency. From 1995 to 2003 he was ministerial director and executive secretary of the Pennsylvania Conference. In 2003, he was appointed president of the Pennsylvania Conference, with several chairmanships and memberships for the conference as well.

Ray lives today in Mohrsville, Pennsylvania. He is married and has two adult children.