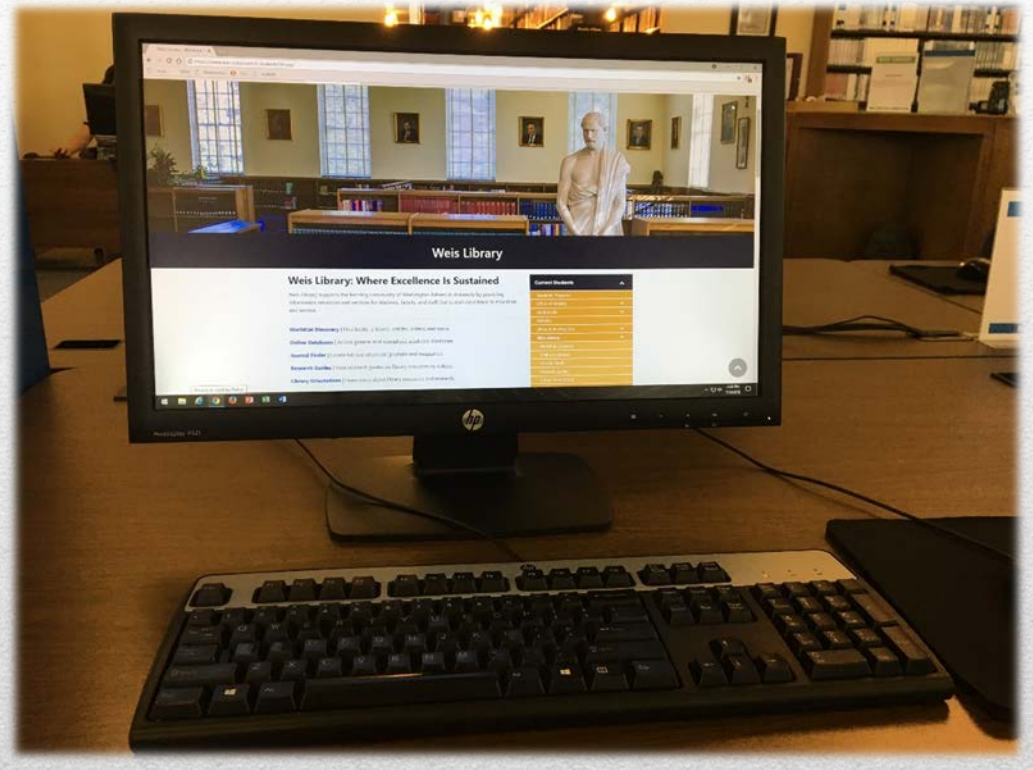
Welcome to Weis Library !

Part 3: Library Website ● Online Research Tools

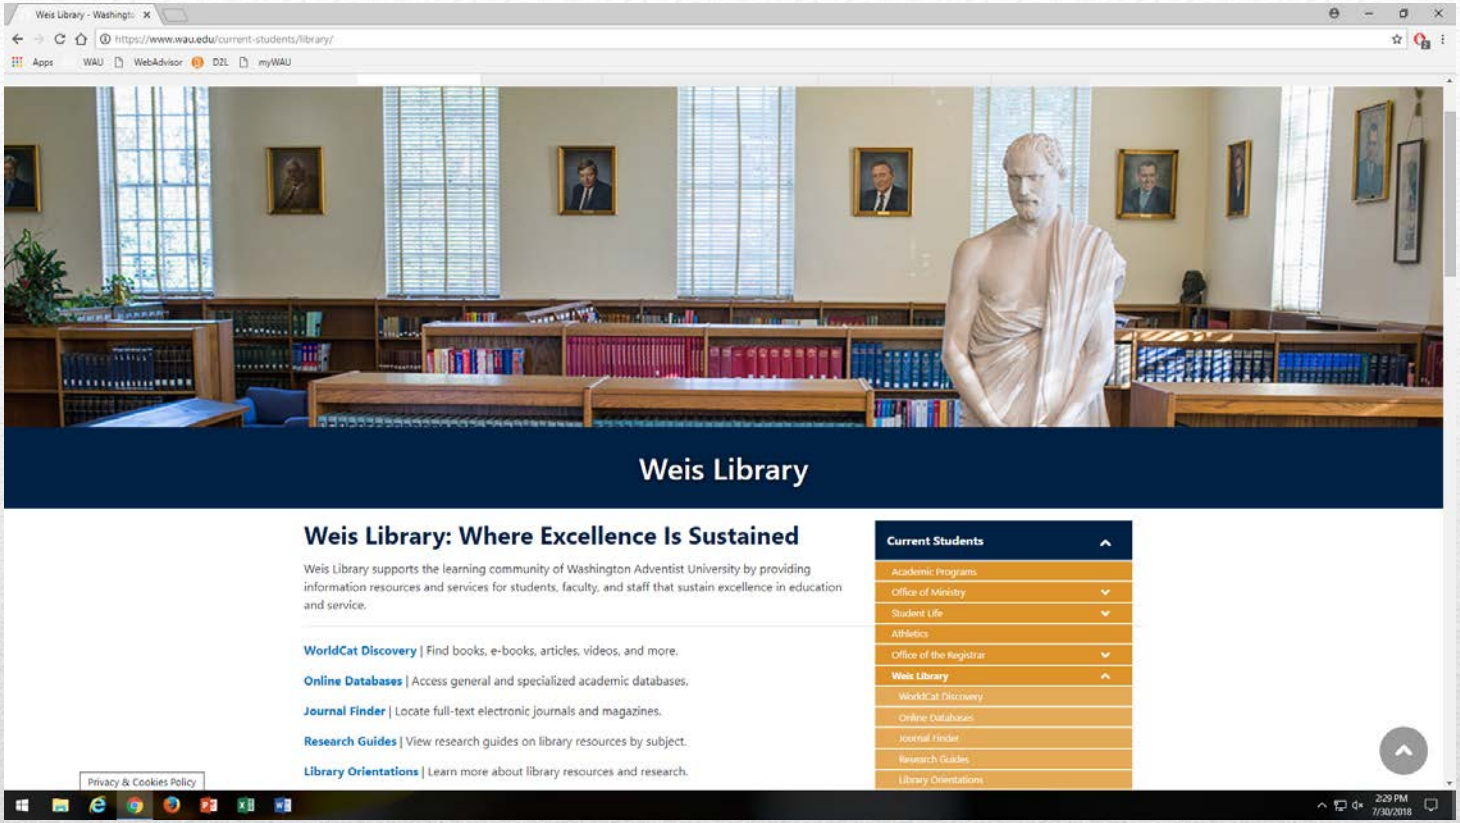
July 2018

Weis Library has over 700,000 print and digital information resources to meet the research needs of students, faculty, and staff.

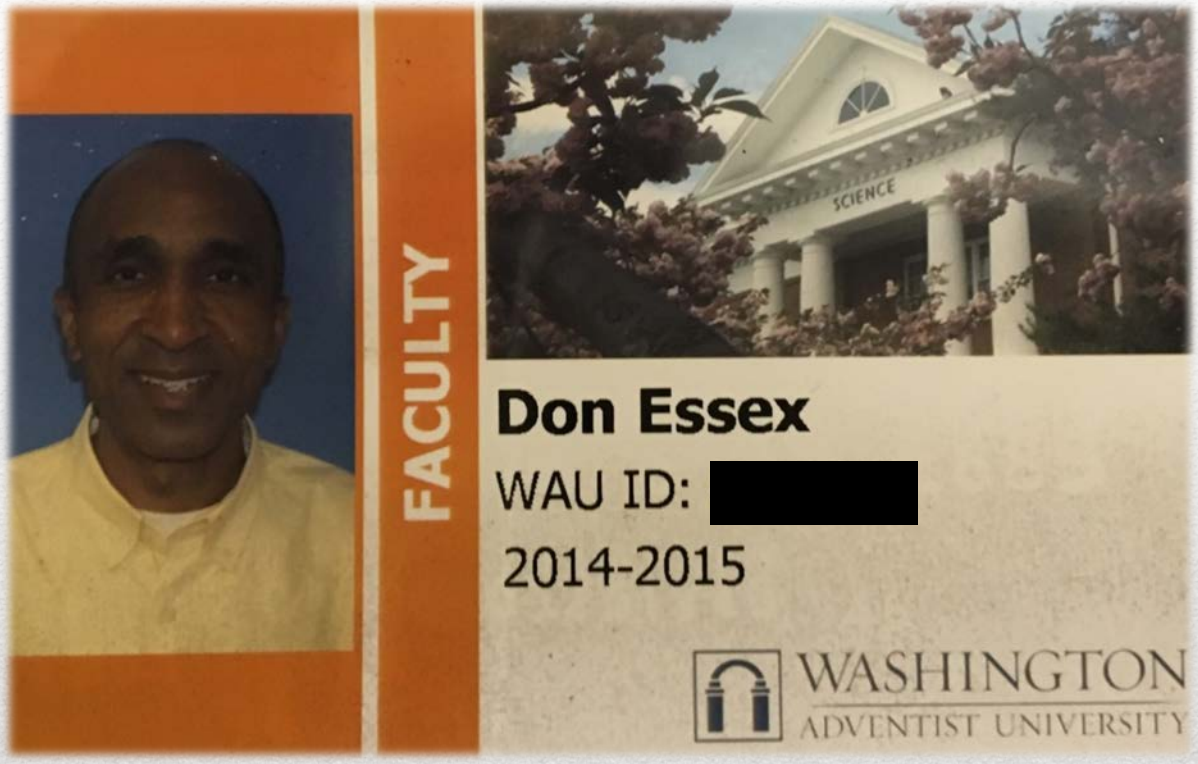
Many of these information resources can be identified and accessed through the library's website.



The web address is: www.wau.edu/library



The library's website contains several research tools to help you locate both print and digital information resources.



You must possess a valid WAU identification card to access most of the research tools available on the library's website.

The most essential research tools are prominently placed on the library's homepage and include the following:

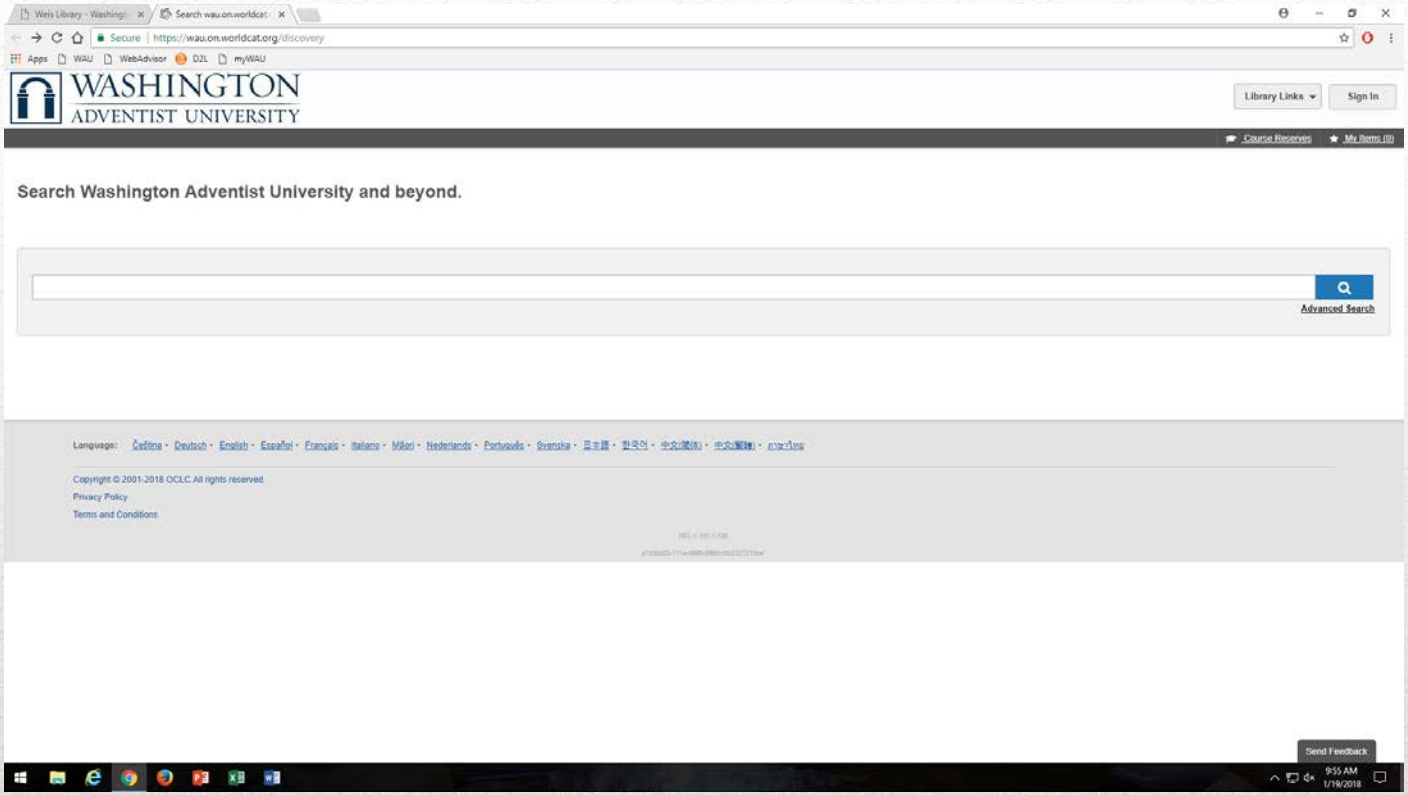
WorldCat Discovery | Find books, e-books, articles, videos, and more.

Online Databases | Access general and specialized academic databases.

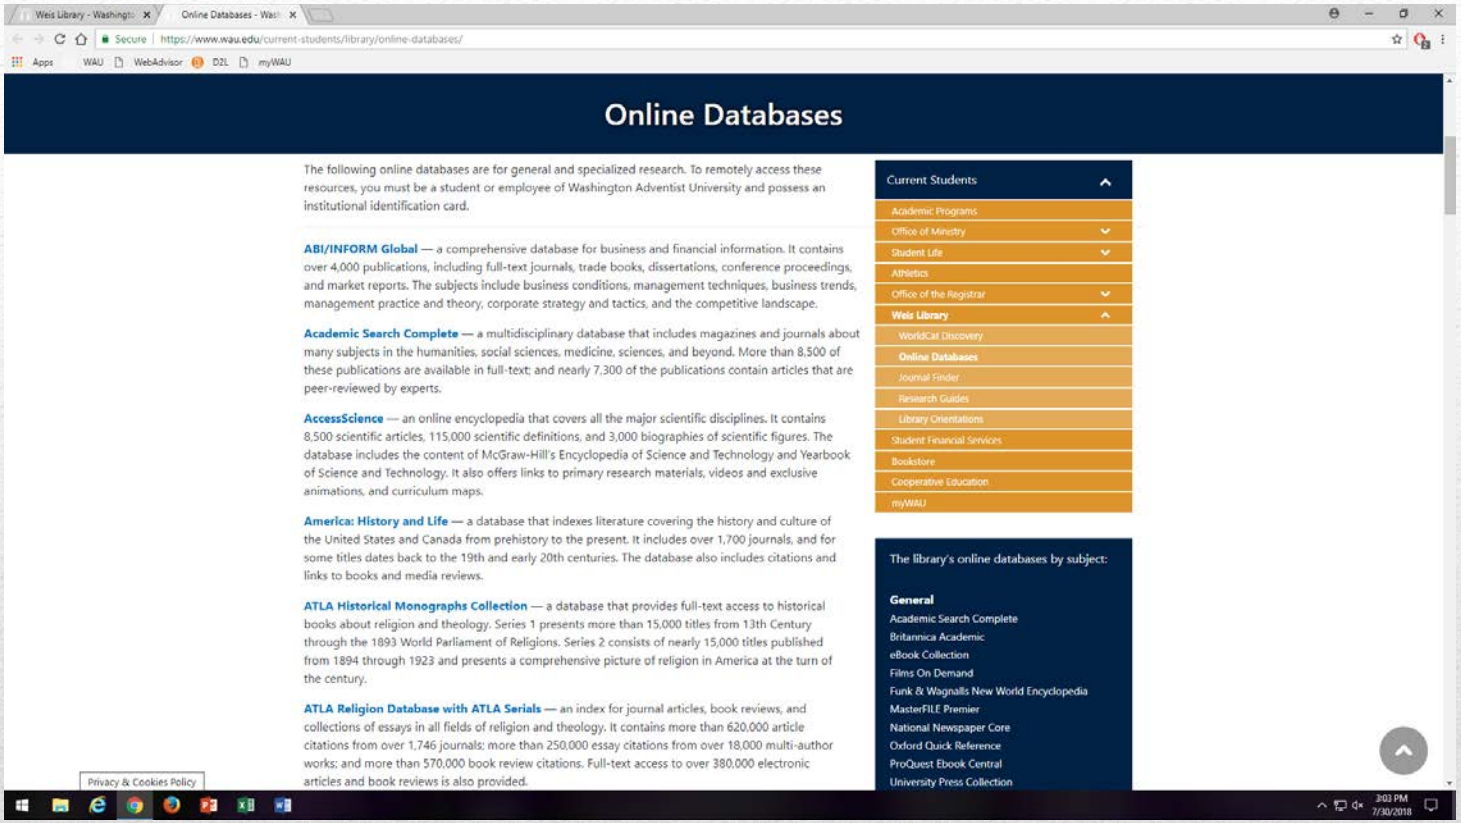
Journal Finder | Locate full-text electronic journals and magazines.

Research Guides | View research guides on library resources by subject.

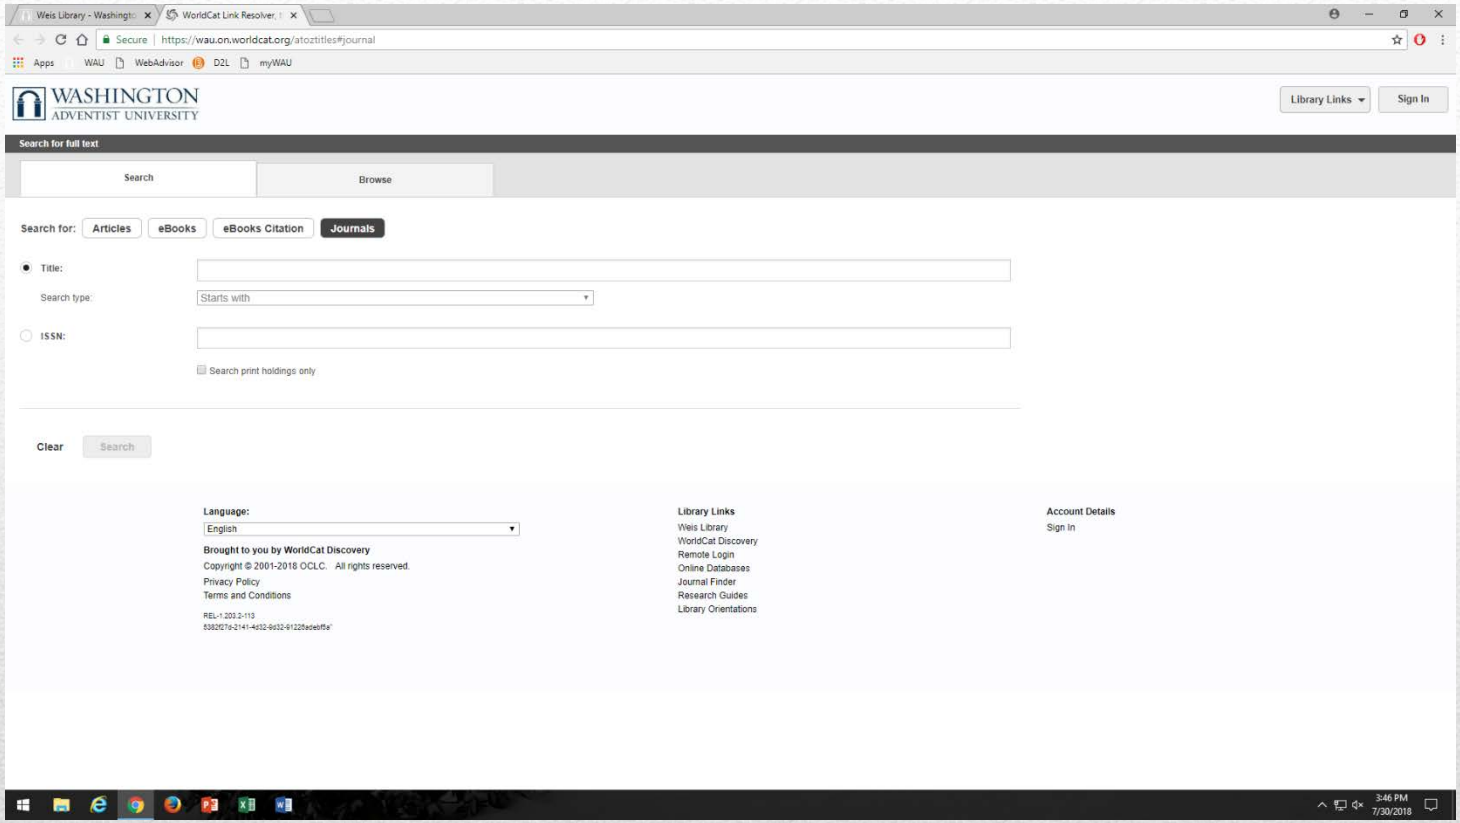
Library Orientations | Learn more about library resources and research.



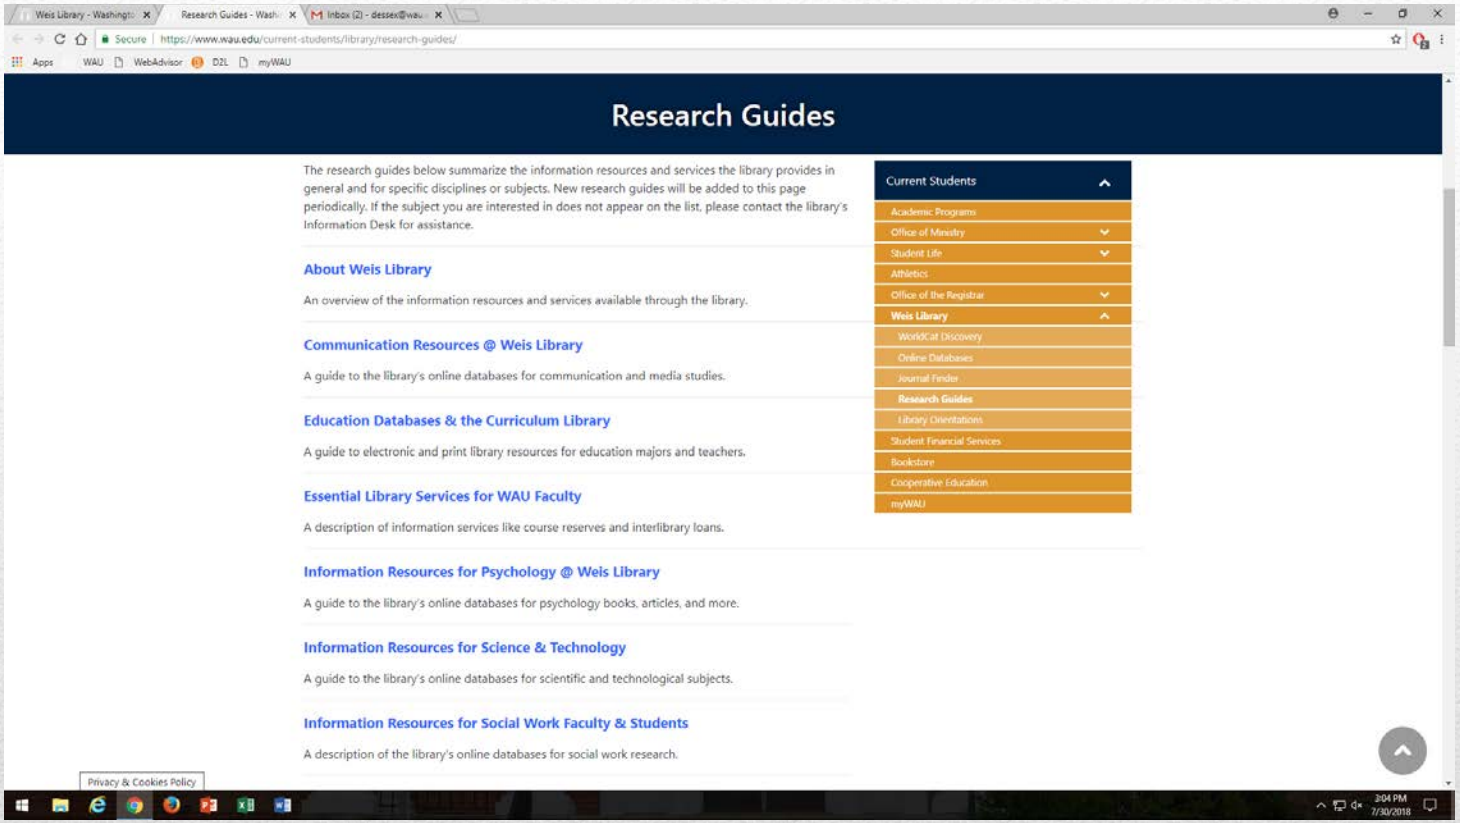
WorldCat Discovery is a searchable database of the information resources owned by Weis Library, including its books, e-books, journals, CDs, and videos.



The Online Databases page provides descriptions of and links to all the electronic databases and encyclopedias that can be accessed through the library.



Journal Finder is an searchable index of the journals and magazines available in full-text through the library's online databases.



The Research Guides page contains guides to the library's information resources and services for general research and specific subjects.

For a closer look at the resources covered in this presentation, please see:

WorldCat Discovery

Online Databases

Journal Finder

Research Guides

The End