

WAU Honors College Leadership and Service Learning Objectives

To have an activity approved by the Honors College, sponsoring organizations must indicate how specific tasks, skills, or knowledge acquired through the activity fulfill each of our five mandatory learning objectives. Leadership and Service Activities shall be expected to develop the following:

- Teamwork: Students shall be able to dialogue and work with others effectively and expediently in a variety of contexts.
- Problem Solving: Students shall be expected to become creative problem solvers and find practical applications for knowledge gained from the activity.
- Adaptability: Students shall be expected to develop and use transferable skills in a variety of contexts.
- Professionalism: Students shall develop general and/or specified workplace skills that shall allow them to lead and serve more effectively.
- Cultural literacy: Students shall be able to lead and serve more effectively, having gained a broadened cultural awareness, whether global or local, from participating in this activity.

If your organization requires feedback on a proposal or assistance in identifying how your activity may meet the Honors College learning objectives, we would be happy to advise you throughout the process. Please email honorscollege@wau.edu.
